

mammon

Musik: Michael Hofmann Text: Michael Hofmann hey people come and listen to the story 'bout a friend he tried to find a system but he failed in the end economy – business – money made him think about it the more you work

the more you want you're never satisfied early in the morning people rush to work when they get back home their life is really dead a new tv – a fridge – a car is what they're working for

the more you work
the more you spend a spiral without end day after day my mind is floating away I let my imagination fly I long for the hour when my dreams come true suddenly I see the light what's going on

I wake up in the morning next thing the day is gone somehow I must find the time for fresh air otherwise I'm gonna lose my open mind and sacrifice my soul for a handful of gold

I'm sorry to say nothing is gonna change
I can't take anymore
I'm getting close to the end

I leave my home today
and look for a place to die
leaving all the things behind it makes me wanna cry

living in a time today where money governs the world No place for a creature like me
I better grab my coat and go

I leave my home today
and look for a place to die
leaving all the things behind
it makes me wanna cry

I'm sorry to say
nothing is gonna change
no place for a creature like me
I better grab my coat and go

I leave my home today

and look for a place to die
leaving all the things behind
it makes me wanna cry

it's a new beginning
it's another life
it's a new beginning
it's another life
life goes on
life goes on
life goes on

Hey people did you listen to the story 'bout that guy He tried to fight the system but was all alone Economy – business – money, come on think about it The more we look the more we see it's up to us to change